

“I’m pleased to be part of Evidence Aid, helping improve the use and usefulness of Cochrane Reviews”

Claire Allen is the part-time Knowledge Manager for Evidence Aid. She also works for the Cochrane Collaboration Secretariat and has recently completed a B.A. (Hons) in Communication, Media and Culture. Claire’s background is in administration and finance. She was appointed to the post of Knowledge Manager in August 2011. Her main task relates to the management of information, ensuring that information can be readily accessed and is in the format most helpful to the user, bearing in mind the potentially difficult circumstances in which evidence will be needed.
